

Would you like to help bring joy to disadvantaged children this Christmas?

Vinnies is partnering with Box For Monkeys to help children and families we across New South Wales experiencing disadvantage, homelessness, trauma and instability.

Box For Monkeys have worked with Vinnies to develop a range of activity boxes and back-to-school packs specifically designed to nurture family relationships and provide fun educational activities for children aged 3- 12 who are going through tough times.

St Vincent de Paul Society
good works

Many of the families that Vinnies assist have experienced stress, upheaval and uncertainty. Box For Monkeys activity packs help to ensure that a child's development, intellectual stimulation, curiosity and love of learning continues, even during times of disruption and instability. A Box For Monkeys gift is one for the whole family.

How can I get involved?

- You can purchase an activity box or a back-to-school pack for a child experiencing disadvantage this Christmas by visiting www.BoxForMonkeys.com/vinnies.
- If you are interested in purchasing a gift for your own children or family and friends, look at what's on offer at www.BoxForMonkeys.com/shop.

Box For Monkeys will be generously donating $1 for every purchase to support Vinnies' work in the community. Whether it be an activity box purchased as a Christmas gift, or a back-to-school pack, you can help relieve the financial strain on families over a difficult period and bring joy to children.

Where do the boxes go?

Box For Monkeys will deliver them to seven regions across NSW where the dedicated Vinnies team will then distribute them to the kids and youth that need them the most. The majority will go to children residing at our domestic violence refuges and family homelessness services; or who are experiencing disadvantage and receive community outreach support from one of our services around Christmas or are returning to school in the New Year.